

Good Faith Estimate for Private Pay Clients

You have the right to receive a good faith estimate explaining how much your medical care will cost. Under the law, Health Care Providers need to give patients who don't have insurance or who are not using Insurance an estimate of the bill for medical items and services.

You have the right to receive a good faith estimate for the total expected cost of any non-emergency items or services. This includes related costs like medical test, prescription drugs, equipment, and Hospital fees when applicable. Make sure your healthcare provider gives you a good faith estimate in writing at least one business day before your medical service is provided. You can also ask your healthcare provider for a good faith estimate before you schedule a service.

If you receive a bill that is at least 400 dollars more than your good faith estimate, you can dispute the bill. Make sure to save a copy or picture of your good faith estimate when it is provided to you.
